

BROOK FLY LINE

The relatively short heads of the Brook WF-lines are designed to present your flies carefully and with precision to high strung fish pumped with adrenaline and flight instincts. We have tapered these lines to ensure controlled turnovers and feather light presentations. A brook line is a perfect remedy if your normal fly fishing habitat includes narrow rivers and cramped condition and is yet another example of man gaining on Mother Nature.

NEW "BIG FLY" FLY LINE

We will present a brand new WF-line with a specialized Big Fly taper for 2017. These lines will have shorter front tapers to be able to turn over really big flies, but we have also focused strongly on casting abilities. Sierra fly lines should always be a guarantee for good balanced lines that provides joyful experiences to everyone fishing with them.

PROVIDER LONG BELLY FLY LINE

These Long Belly lines are designed solely for aesthetic reasons. For true fly line nerds, there is nothing more beautiful than a narrow looped fly cast that for a frozen moment seems drawn by God's own hand. Fortunately, the same traits ensuring long flights and breath taking turnovers will also help you present flies to fish that normally would be way outside your range and secure amazingly controlled and precise presentations to fish a little closer than that. The heads are long enough to extend your normal range, but short enough to include most fly fishers over their first fumbling casting stages. Welcome to the undivided joy of casting an outstanding fly line.
